A Team is Needed for Alzheimer’s Care

Neurology
Norman L. Foster, M.D.
Edward Zamrini, M.D.

Internationally Recognized Dementia Experts, Experienced Researchers
- Practice focused on dementing diseases and related cognitive disorders
- Enhance and support the care provided by your physician
- Provide definitive diagnosis and a comprehensive management plan
- Use cutting-edge MRI and PET imaging methods when appropriate to aid diagnosis
- Lead a collaborative, multi-disciplinary team

Neuropsychology
Gordon J. Chelune, Ph.D., ABPP
James A. Levy, Ph.D.

Internationally Recognized Neuropsychologists, Dementia Experts and Researchers
- Neuropsychological testing is a critical component of the dementia diagnostic process
- Neuropsychologists interface directly with neurologist to optimize assessments
- Neuropsychology technicians Stephanie Card and Camille Gleave are trained to administer specialized tests

Social Work
Troy Andersen, LCSW

Patient & Caregiver Support
- Full-time social work services specializing in dementia care
- Assessing and managing behavioral concerns
- Support and advocacy for caregivers in adjusting to new roles
- Addressing safety issues with strategic interventions
- Referrals to respite care and other in-home services
- Understanding and accessing community services

Health Education
Kathy Moran, Health Educator

Up-to-date Dementia Education & Community Liaison
- Information regarding dementia and Alzheimer’s disease changes regularly and this information is shared with patients and family members
- Advanced directives for medical decisions are critical for patients and family members to understand
- Patient safety, driving competency and healthy lifestyle information
- Community liaison and outreach

Scheduling & Support
Sarah Brown
Suzy Bates
Whitney Merrill
Carolyn Knudsen

Navigating Complex Needs
- Dementia assessment and care require scheduling appointments with various providers
- Many patients are from out of state, so the appointments need to be carefully coordinated
- Detailed coordination with insurance companies

---

Expertise of University Health Care System

The Alzheimer’s Association

Community Services and Long-Term Care