Position Description: CACIR

Faculty Clinical Neuropsychologist: CACIR. The Department of Neurology is recruiting a clinical faculty neuropsychologist to assist in the coordination and delivery of neuropsychological services in the Center for Alzheimer’s Care, Imaging and Research and the Cognitive Disorders Program at the University of Utah Hospital and Clinics. Applicants should have a record of clinical experience with neurodegenerative and aging populations and a strong commitment to patient care. The position will involve providing clinical care within a neurocognitive disorders clinic as part of multidisciplinary team. Collaboration with other neuropsychologists in the Neurology Department and at the University of Utah is expected. There also will be opportunities for the teaching and supervision of technicians, residents and fellows. Applicants must have a PhD and have completed an APA-approved clinical internship and a post-doctoral fellowship in clinical neuropsychology. Applicants are expected to become licensed in Utah, and should be ABPP board-certified or board-eligible in clinical neuropsychology. The position is in the Clinical Track at the Assistant Professor rank within the Department of Neurology at the University of Utah School of Medicine.
